

Ration Books Going Out This Week

The new ration books being distributed this week at stated times at each community have 11 sheets of coupons instead of 15 as in ration book 3 and the three cards at the back are omitted. This does not mean the act of rationing, officials point out, but it does mean a saving of 70 tons of paper, enough to make 30,000 packing cases for ten pound shells; 470,000 boxes for small arms ammunition; 50,000 shell for fuel component parts; 30,000 boxes for aerial camera shells.

Three printers have handled the job of printing the 12½ million books which is the biggest printing job ever done in Canada. Five printers got out ration book 3. This saving in paper, printing and shipping costs amounts to $50,000.

Ration book 4 includes sheets of meat coupons because when the book was prepared there was no indication of whether the meat rationing was all probability meat coupons. In ration book 4 will be used before the book arrives, officials state.

Some 250,000 volunteers are helping in the distribution campaign working from 10,000 to 20,000 organized by the local ration boards. Their work saves the country at least half a million dollars.

Those who do not pick up their new ration books during the stated period of distribution will not be able to get ration book 4 until April 17.

Irrigation Project is Approved

The Alberta legislature validated the bill which gives approval to an agreement between the C.P.R. and a group of farmers for the taking over by the latter of the Western Irrigation project. This action was taken without dissent signed by more than 700 farmers was presented.

During the debate, J. C. Mahaffy, (Ind.) Calgary, said that "although I approve of the bill, I object to letting the C.P.R. 'off the hook' in regard to obligations to their agricultural interests. He said there are 50 farmers in the area still holding contracts with the C.P.R. for water service.

In regard to these and the proposed new agreement, he suggested the $20 per acre for a total of $10,000 which the company is willing to pay to the new district board as compensation for assuming the company's obligations to water users, should be set apart in a trust fund which would be used to meet any damage claims by farmers still holding contracts.

D. L. McKinnon (Ind.) Grinchew, W. C. Cain (S.C.), Bow Valley Enterprise, Lionel Teller (Ind.), St. Albert; and Angus Morrison (Lab.), Edmonton, concurred in the Calgary member's suggestion.

Mr. Morrison moved the bill be amended to effect the protection to present contract holders suggested by Mr. Mahaffy and the amendment was lost by a close vote. Government and opposition ranks were split on the vote.

The agricultural committee heard arguments for and against the proposal to validate the agreement.

J. E. Brownlee, K.C., appeared as counsel for the committee of farmers who have organized the new set up, while with him were John MacArthur of Gleichen, chairman of the board provided for under the agreement; J. M. Wheatley, Okanogan; and James Harwood, Strathmore.

Objections to the deal were expressed by Ben Cook, farmer of Chancellors and I. H. Lawrie of farmer of Stand and.

Outlining the agreement under which the farmers will take over irrigation control of a project which had an original area of 500,000 acres from the C.P.R., Mr. Brownlee said the railway company would pay the district $400,000 as a maintenance and operation fund. Also, the company would pay approximately $10,000, on the basis of $20 an acre to those who still hold contracts. This fund could be "earmarked" to guarantee them against loss if the proposed district set up failed.

Objections to the bill said they wanted the C.P.R. to stand by its contract to deliver water, as otherwise they would not have bought land in the district.

During the discussion of the bill, it was stated many farmers had signed relinquishments of contracts to purchase water from the C.P.R. and more had signed up under a farm-operated irrigation district.

OUR FIRST WEEK IN LONDON

By R. P. MacLean,
Eight Canadian editors who came to England at the invitation of the British Ministry of Information have just completed their first week in London—a week during which there has been no rain, but at Southampton they ran into a very brief snowstorm lasting only a few minutes. During the week most of the party have suffered from colds as most people do when they come to England.

It has been a week packed full of interest, during which we have mingled with the High Commissioners for Canada, Generals of the services, high ranking naval personnel and privates. A week in which we have been photographed daily by official photographers; banqueted by the High Commissioners, the army and navy; and welcomed from all bodies and managed to get in a little work with the Canadian fighting forces. Through the week we came with flying colors and suffered from lack of rest.

On our arrival we just missed an air raid. A few of the enemy planes managed to get through the barrage but little damage was done. We were told that the barrage put up by the defense is really something to hear. A few of the boys who were with the party yesterday heard the barrage for the first time this morning, when some of the enemy planes got through early this morning. We spent the night at Southampton, preparatory to visiting the navy, and missed the show.

Sunday was a day of rest. Some of the members visited friends and relatives. At least one member spent some time in Hyde Park where the soap box orators still hold forth in all their glory in spite of the war and restrictions. Free speech is still allowed.

Monday we had the pleasure of meeting the famous "Wolf" squadron. We looked over their spindles, and which the boys swear, and their administration offices. This squadron had just received its crest which were signed by the King and they were very proud of it. This squadron has a very excellent record and stands second in the number of planes shot down last year. They were a fine bunch of boys and really anxious to get the Hun into the air. Their chief complaint seemed to be that the Hun would not come off the ground. We saw something of their cannon and machine guns and the servicing those places need to keep them in the air, we entered the Air Service Museum for lunch we ran into Squadron Leader Gordon H. D.P.C., and two bars, recently returned from Canada and will soon be commanding a new squadron.

There were several other visits and late in the afternoon we met Air Marshal Broadhead who had command of the Air force and other high ranking officers, including Air Vice-Marshal Brooks who will show us something of the Bomber Command next week.

On Tuesday we inspected the bombed areas of London and marvelled at St. Paul's Cathedral escaped total destruction while all around it has laid waste. Words fail in describing the destruction. Where once famous buildings stood nothing remained but the basements. Most of the debris has been cleared away and walls built along sidewalks to prevent people from falling into cellars. We were inside St. Paul's and saw the damage caused by bomb hits, but these are not particularly serious and repairs can be effected, but Londoners do not stand surveying the damage; they carry on with that determination that ensures the future of the British Commonwealth of Nations. They have a job to do in beating Hitler and they are doing the job, come what may.

The Canadian High Commissioner's lunch gave us an opportunity to meet many of London's publishers and some members of parliament. Afterwards we were taken to Carlton Hall and provided with ration books and gas masks.

Mrs. P. Deshayne, the local secretary of the Red Cross, states she has the names of 55 who are willing to donate their blood to the Divisional Blood Donor Clinic which will be in Gleichen on April 30th at the Blackfoot hospital. Others were ready to make their donation but 55 is all that can be handled this time. They will be given the opportunity when the clinic comes to Gleichen again.

Two Alberta men, S. G. Beck of Cluny and Steve Foster of Mountain Park, were among the first troops to take advantage of the facilities of Peuneech House, popular haven for Canadian soldiers on 48 hour leave from duty on the Italian front, according to a report from overseas. At Peuneech House, supervised and run by the Salvation Army War Service, the men get real hotel service, laid off white linen and are served by Italian waiters, bootblack and barbers. They do what they please, sleep, read, write home, listen to the radio, read and attend movies. And every evening an Italian jazz orchestra plays for them.

C. E. Jones operator at the G.P.R. station, was informed, last week that his brother had been killed during air operations overseas, March 16. Funeral services were held in Harrowgate, Yorkshire, England. He enlisted in October, 1940, trained at Regina, later took a ground course in St. Thomas, Ont. For a year he was a mechanic at the air school near Clarendon, following which he transferred to aircrew. After training in Lethbridge and St. John's, Quebec, he was sent overseas. He had completed four operational flights. He leaves his parents who live in Medicine Hat, two brothers, C. E. Jones of Gleichen and William of Ottawa, and a sister, Mrs. R. Moffat of Vancouver.

R. S. Haskayne received a cable gram Monday informing him of the death of his father at Maghull, England, in his 77th year. Mr. Haskayne states his father, like himself, was in the meat business and the last time he had seen him was in 1926 when he had paid a visit to the Old Country.

About 30 lady curlers were entertained to bridge and rummole on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. E. James. The bridge prize winners were: Mrs. Webb 1st; Mrs. J. Kidd, 2nd; Mrs. Brown, 3rd. The rummole prize went to Miss G. Ferguson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Crawford of Byromere were visitors in town during the week to Mrs. A. Wilson and Mrs. R. Brown.

SHIRT CURRENT BARBACHENAW

Tradition was upset when for the first time in history a woman was called to act as Speaker of the House of Commons. Mrs. Cora Casseman, liberal member for Edmonton East, did it gracefully. Anyone who has seen this striking looking parliamentarian in the house would agree she would do honor to the Speaker's throne. Patriotic slogans on car-caps could be kept off letters going to prisoners of war, because the German Reich has advised it will confiscate it. This warning comes from the Post Office department. National Selective Service officials say that shortly a Dominion-wide survey is to be made of all male employees between 18 and 35 years. Reason: to locate persons evading call-up regulations. Some 30,000 government employees will have undergone the X-ray checkup to determine prevalence of tuberculosis.

Now that shipping from the West Indies is somewhat improved the question is often asked why more sugar is not brought into the country. We might answer and get this from the Consumer Branch in Ottawa. When rationing began, shipping difficulties caused short supply. The world pool of sugar, which stood at two million tons a year was down to half that at the end of 1943. From this pool Canada must import four-fifths of her sugar supply. The world

Farm workers who have moved from their homes to essential employment during the winter will be drifting back shortly now. It is being worked out—by regions—by the Selective Service people so that the men will be getting back to each area when they are needed. Valid to April 1st some 78,491 permits were issued for farm workers to engage in other industries. ## First Objective

In these decisive months all Canada's effort is concentrated on one great objective—the attack that is to destroy the Nazi menace and all that it represents. Years of work have gone into its preparation. The best of our young men are staking their lives on its success.

We in Canada must support and strengthen this attack with all our effort. This one purpose must command our work, our minds and our hearts.

We must not permit any scramble for private gain or individual selfish ends, to distract us from our main task. If we concentrate on seeking, individually or jointly, higher prices, higher pay or higher profits, we shall be diverting our attention from the main task at this critical time. We shall also endanger the stability of prices which we in Canada have achieved after great difficulties—a stability that is essential to efficiency and fairness in war, and to peacetime prosperity afterward.

Our young men are fighting for a Canada and a world in which all men can have faith, hope and security. Each of them wants to come back to a job—or a farm—with a future. We at home must keep secure for them a strong and stable foundation on which alone a post-war period of promise and achievement can be built.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and deflation later.

International Understanding

DEVELOPMENTS IN SCIENCE, medicine, and mechanics have been greatly accelerated because of the demands of war, and undertakings which in normal times might have taken years, have been completed in weeks or months. In the same way, there has been rapid progress in international co-operation and understanding. Had there been no war, improved means of communication would, in time, have brought the people of all nations into closer contact, but the war has greatly hastened this process. Refugees from Nazi tyranny have come from all parts of Europe to Britain, the United States and Canada, some of them bringing outstanding abilities which have been placed at the disposal of the countries in which they have settled. The presence of these people, many of them members of governments in exile, or of the free fighting forces of occupied countries, has contributed a great deal towards the mutual trust and understanding among nations which is so desirable now and in years to come.

Air Training Plan A Factor

Another factor which has been instrumental in bringing together men from many lands, is the Commonwealth Air Training Plan. Through this project, thousands of young men from Britain, Australia, New Zealand, and other parts of the Empire have travelled widely in Canada, becoming familiar with this Dominion and its people, and at the same time giving us an opportunity to learn much from them of the countries from which they come. This exchange of information and ideas is bound to lay the foundations for firmer bonds of friendship between the people of the nations who are now fighting for a common cause. A writer for the British Ministry of Information, commenting on this subject recently, observed that "the benefits of world war are indeed few enough, but among them must be rated high opportunities for ordinary people of many countries to get to know each other better."

British People Are Hospitable

The war has made Britain a meeting place for people from all the United Nations. At first many refugee there from German oppression, and later armed forces from all parts of the Empire, have been welcomed. It has been observed that English people have had the reputation of being inhuman, but whether this was true or imaginary, it is not in evidence now, as British hospitality is warmly extended to people from many lands. Numerous clubs and organizations were set up for refugees, where they might meet not only their countrymen, but people from the other United Nations. For members of the services from all parts of the Commonwealth and the United States, provisions have been made for many forms of entertainment. There are abundant invitations from private homes for those on leave, and in addition educational, "diversion courses" at Oxford, and many other facilities are offered. In all this there is evidence of great progress in international understanding and co-operation.

Sure Of Victory For Laying Hens

Canadian Servicemen Overseas Are Ready For The Fray
Foster Barclay, back at Ottawa after more than three years' service overseas as a Canadian Press war correspondent, said Canadian servicemen have shown that they know how to wield their weapons, and that "wherever you go nowadays" there is high praise for the three "potent" Canadian services.

The men overseas cannot say when the war will end, but they are sure of victory, Barclay said. "They would like to be home, too, but if you were to give them the choice of coming tomorrow or staying to the end you could bet they would want to continue."

GARDEN NOTES

To Relieve Strain
This year with the war in a critical phase, gardens and gardening are needed more than ever. Not only are they needed for providing essential food, but also as a useful and pleasant recreation open to every citizen of the Dominion. In the spring one turns naturally to gardening. Digging in the soil, sowing seeds and watching plants develop provides a welcome and needed change when tension was never greater. And when many of our normal recreations are impossible.

Hardy and Otherwise
Roughly, vegetables and flowers naturally divide themselves into three degrees of hardness.

In vegetables one can hardly plant such things as peas too early, because they are a cool weather crop and must make their growth before the days become too hot for them. Hardy line are spinach, lettuce, radish, beets, carrots and parsnips, as well as chard, etc. Under semi-hardy, there will be beans, potatoes, corn, cabbage, etc. A very slight frost will not kill some of these but it will certainly set them back. As a matter of fact, with a few exceptions, there is little gained in planting these while there is still danger of serious frost and the soil is cold. And, of course, with warm weather things like melons, squash, tomatoes and cucumbers, one is risking certain disaster by planting before danger from frost has passed.

Flower Families
In flowers, certain things that would normally seem to be of the same sort as unsaved every spring can be sown just as soon as possible. This would cover such very hardy things as alysium, hollyhocks, marigolds, etc. Sweet peas also should be put in this category, although they will not stand the winter snows in some of the very mildest parts of Canada. At the other end of the line will be the very tender plants like dahlias, gladioli and cannas. These will not stand frost. Any Canadian seed catalogue, of course, will advise in detail on these points.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

"The Blast-Out"

Sheriff Matt Scott and his deputy, Pete Connelly, hunting in front of the county jail, weren't especially enjoying the shade. "I still say I'm right to lock up every bum that drifts through Kaysville," the sheriff growled bullgerringly.

"You're a hard man," insisted the deputy. "Everybody says so. You even bully your daughter!"

"Leave Diana out of this!" Scott roared. He rose from the bench and went inside. Pete could hear his heavy steps halting in front of the kid's cell. Scott addressed the prisoner: "Are you willing to talk, Hale?" There was dead silence from the cell.

Pete almost jumped at the soft voice of skirts beside him. Diana Scott bent her bright blond head close to Pete's ear and whispered, "I didn't dare tell Dad, but Terry Hale and I were at the State University. Terry was on his way to a city where he has a job waiting for him."

She stopped his question with a warning look. "You see," she gasped, "we engaged!" He was going to run away—close to the door.

Pete whooped under his breath. "Hallelujah! Say I was beginning to think you were going to let your dad railroad you into marrying that cat, George Ott."

Diana crimsoned exultantly. Her eyes were starry. "Dad's all right—but this is love, Pete. Hear my luck!"

Some of her exultation died when she stood into the jail. Hale had to help get Terry out, somehow! Aloud she coaxed softly, "Oh, why we're married, you let him go, Dad! He's done nothing wrong!"

The prisoner, bronzed arms bulging through a torn shirt, gazed at her drowsily. Diana's heart skipped long beats. But Hale's voice was cool. "I guess the sheriff won't let me go so easily! I tell his home town how he can check up on me!"

Diana tried to control her excitement. "That should be simple."

"Can't tell," muttered the prisoner.

Sheriff Scott sneered. "You probably broke the law last time. I've sent your finger prints and description to the local F.B.I. office." He wheeled on Diana. "Come along; we're going home!"

But as her father stamped down the corridor, Diana banged her head against a note through the bars and received one in exchange. "—"

Sheriff Scott watched his daughter closely as she moved about the kitchen preparing their evening meal. "Diana," he ordered brusquely, "I forbid you to come around to the jail again. I don't like to have you speak to a common bum."

"But he's not a bum!" Scott ignored that. Diana's knuckles whitened at a clumsy step on the porch. Every night for the past month that hated footstep had come at exactly seven. And every night she had tried to escape the same fantastic ritual that was about to take place.

"Come in, George!" bellowed Sheriff Scott heartily, as the door opened. "Diana's just sitting supper."

George was thick-set, ape-like. Dutifully Diana submitted to his kisses, quickly turning one salt-smothering George. Always stayed for the evening meal. He made strange noises swallowing food, black eyes never leaving her. Afterwards, Connelly, who boarded with the Scotts, went into the living room for his life and found Diana waiting, finger on lips, a note in her hand. "Don't open it until morning," she whispered. Then she and George went off to the movie.

"Matt," growled Connelly, "George is too old for Diana. He's thirty. She goes around with him because you order her to."

The sheriff nodded. "George owns a fine farm. She'll have everything she wants. Her mother made me promise to see that she got a good man."

Connelly grunted. It was nearly ten o'clock. "Diana ought to be getting home soon," the sheriff said. He stretched. "Say, Matt, this tramp asked for a deck of cards today. He's probably a gambler."

Next morning, Sheriff Scott tore into Connelly's room, wild-eyed. He shook Connelly awake. "Diana hasn't come home all night!" he shouted. "She's phoned George. He says he brought her home at nine o'clock. He's gripped

"Bump" in the Grain Bin

Seven or eight years ago, a distinguished authority on insects stated that, in Western Canada, we never worry about insect damage in our stored grain. Most authorities are occasionally wrong, and he was no exception.

It is not our purpose to spread false alarm, but merely to draw attention to the defensive measures at our disposal. In guarding against losses due to insects in farm stored grain, we have three powerful allies. They are: a cold climate, a dry climate and a very efficient Division of Entomology in the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Despite these advantages losses have been suffered and will continue unless the necessary precautions are observed.

The best prevention against loss is storing only dry grain, and keeping it dry by means of ventilated granaries which exclude rain and snow and which are constructed so as to provide an air space between the floor and the ground. As added insurance, it is wise to bin grain during cold weather or move it out, if possible, clean it, during very cold weather.

If storing tough grain is unavoidable, it should be examined regularly, and at the first sign of heating or infestation by mites or insects, it should be run through a fanning mill, threshing machine or combine. All Line Elevator agents have copies of a Dominion Government leaflet on this subject and, also, the "Seedling and Harvest" leaflet which gives more detail than space allows here.

some of the worst bomb destruction we had seen. The borough covers a square mile and had a population of 100,000 persons. Half of them moved away from the area and found work elsewhere. Bethnal Green suffered terribly. As many as 173 incidents happened there in one night. Here a terrible calamity happened in one of the air raid shelters when a mother and two children fell at the bottom of a stairway and in the crush to seek protection nearly 300 persons piled in there, 173 dying from suffocation as the bodies were crushed by the weight behind. Miss W. Leggett of the staff of the Bank of Commerce spent the weekend in Calgary visiting her parents. Canon Waters will hold an Easter Service, Sunday April 9th, in St. Andrew's church at 3 p.m.

Mr. L. Harry Igle Heinbockel, Rockyford, former resident of Gleichen has been reported missing after air operations overseas on March 16. Mr. L. Heinbockel lived in Gleichen and for several years attended school here. His wife and daughter live in Calgary. He went overseas in May 1943, and was serving as a Halifax bomber pilot. Previous to leaving Canada he was a flying instructor at Chureholm and High River. He enlisted in May 1941.

Leslie Menard left Thursday evening for Toronto to resume his course as a pilot in the R.C.A.F.

Donald MacArthur left Sunday for Calgary having enlisted in the navy. That evening a number of his young friends were at the station to see him pass through en route east to commence his duties.

Sgt. D. Woods, R.C.A.F., High River spent the weekend in town visiting his parents.

Enough Canadian consumer ration books are placed in the hands of consumers with each distribution to fill four box cars.

Lyon Alexander, a war veteran, of Milo was found dead in his home by Green.

Milo has a most up-to-date air raid shelter that will take care of 4,700 persons, providing them with a bed to sleep on, 8,000 can be packed into the shelters. They take their own bedding, and many of them leave it there for emergency. Some 1,600 have been killed in this area alone. The set-up they now have for handling raids is something to marvel at.

Wednesday we were privileged to meet one of Canada's outstanding young generals—one who is looked on as a possible leader of the Canadian forces in the coming battle. For security reasons we cannot mention his name, but he is of the type that inspires confidence. He had been in Italy and gave a very fine outline of action being carried on there. Questioned about the value of Rome to the Allies he thought it would be of more political than military value. The fighting was going well in Italy, he told the press representative. He also expressed the opinion that Germany would crack this year.

a neighbor who had not seen him for a day or so and investigated. Corp. Amie and Corporal Parquharson were called and pronounced death due to natural causes. The remains were brought to Gleichen by G. W. Evans, Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Major Parkinson of the Salvation Army after which internment was made in the local cemetery where there is a reserved plot for war veterans.

One motor ration coupon now falls due each week, instead of two each fortnight.

Showing a reduction of 36 from the previous year, 18 persons were convicted in Alberta last year on charges of being intoxicated. In all 26 motorists were given jail sentences in 1943. The Alberta Motor Association on many occasions has urged the need of measures being taken to see that regulations concerning same and safe driving are enforced. It also has urged public co-operation to aid the police in locating "hit-and-run" drivers. Doubtless the efforts made by the A.M.A. to promote safety have been a factor in reducing the number of reckless driving cases. There has also been a substantial reduction in the number of motor vehicle accidents in the province the number in 1943 being 1,872 compared with 2,373 in 1942. At the same time, there were just about as many cars on the highway during the past year as the year before. The reduction to the speed limit to 40 miles per hour doubtless has been a factor in cutting the accident toll.

they will be returning before then. The United Nations are looking to Canada for tremendous quantities of food and agriculture will have to maintain all the manpower possible. Recent consolidation of mobilization regulations brings in another group of men. In future, a married man who is not supporting or maintaining his wife or children is liable to get his call if he is within the age group in which single men were liable—that is, if he was born in any of the years between 1906 and 1912 inclusive—providing he has not reached the age of 38 years.

High Honors for Heroic Canadian Pacific Sailors

Bringing to 41 the awards for heroism which Canadian Pacific seagoing personnel have won in war these officers have been honored by the King "for good service" in vessels from among the 20 Canadian Pacific ships taken over by the Admiralty since 1939.

They are from among the 4,488 company men now on Admiralty service, with an additional 1,010 on "Merchant" ships being used as armed cruisers and 101 in shore posts. Of the 18 ocean liners and fast-freighters and the two British Columbia Coast Service vessels in which they went to war nine have been announced as lost—two from the pacific line Pacific fleet, four from Atlantic runs and one from the coast service.

Three Officers of the Order of the British Empire, four Merit of the Empire, and three commendations for their actions under attack make up the latest list which follows an earlier summary showing 31 decorations and mentions in despatches.

The new names on the company's honor roll of the sea are: Capt. R. A. Leicester, O.B.E. (1), master of a vessel sunk in the Mediterranean with Engineer Officers Edward E. Stewart (6) and William B. Harris (7), both of Victoria, winning M.B.E.s in the same action, all four decorations for maintaining loss of life. Chief Officer Donald Smith, O.B.E., of Vancouver, (2), and

First Officer Leonard Johnston, O.B.E., of Vancouver, (3), who guided 41 refugees to safety in Halifax after the Empress of Asia in which they served had been gutted and sunk by the Japs off Singapore.

Chief Engineer William Nelson, O.B.E., of Victoria, (3), and Capt. L. C. Barry, M.B.E., (4), for more than two years of continuous operation in dangerous waters.

Capt. George Gould (5) and Chief Officer John St. Claire Clarke, (9), both of Vancouver, and Chief Engineer D. Gower (10), for good services when the Empress of Canada was torpedoed and sunk by the Italians off Fremont, West Africa.

amounts out of current income. Thanks to the monthly savings plan of the National War Finance Committee, this latter group will be able to join their fellow citizens in the patriotic job of supporting our armed forces engaged in battle. If they begin to save now, they will be able to meet the income tax payment before the 1944 campaign is finished and will be able to buy bonds through a plan that does not call for the first payment until the month of May.

There are large numbers of these, however, who spend their income as fast as it comes in and who will not find the income tax balance due for 1943 difficult to finance. That is, they will not have reserve funds from which to draw and they will be forced to scrape up the required

TWINS OF NECESSITY

There are many among us who must figure closely in order to make their earnings meet the bare necessities of the family. For them, the anticipated income tax balance of $30, $40 or $60 becomes a problem and in a few cases makes the purchase of a $50 Victory Bond a doubtful possibility.

Happily, in the existing economic status of Canada, such breadwinners are very much in the minority. Most families in communities large and small in all provinces are in receipt of sufficient income to provide for the necessities, to pay their income taxes in full and in addition buy Victory Bonds.

There are large numbers of these, however, who spend their income as fast as it comes in and who will not find the income tax balance due for 1943 difficult to finance. That is, they will not have reserve funds from which to draw and they will be forced to scrape up the required

On the Home Front too...

● When a gun goes into action every man has a job to do. Seconds count, and team work gets results. Training . . . endless training . . . gets efficiency that makes each man part of a perfect machine. But something more than efficiency is needed to make a top-rank fighting unit. There must be loyalty . . . that spirit of responsibility that each man feels toward his mates. We've got efficiency on the farm front . . . we're producing more, and with less help to do it. Keep up the teamwork that will make each one of us go all out to support our men on the fighting fronts. We too, are part of a fighting unit . . . citizens of a nation at war. We must not let our men on the fighting fronts down.

Invasion means high tension on the fighting fronts . . . combined operations . . . thorough team work in every detail. And that call for greater action comes back to us at home. We have a job to do here, too. We must all buy Victory Bonds. We have a responsibility to our mates on the firing line. We can't let them down.

And the job that we are asked to do is . . . save more, and lend more to our country. We are asked to let our country have the use of money that we do not need now. We will have the money later on to improve our farms and to buy stock and equipment; for new barns and silos; for new furnishings and conveniences for our homes.

Be ready to buy more Victory Bonds. National War Finance Committee
